Dear Patients

As a general practice, we are contracted by the NHS to provide core health services.

As a general practice, we are also able to provide some private medical services to patients.

When deciding which private services we can offer we have to ensure that our priority is to provide NHS contracted services.

Some of the reasons why we do not provide certain private services is because they are too time consuming, outside of our area of expertise or can be completed by other professionals who are not medically trained, (this list is not exhaustive).

We are not currently providing the services listed below. However, this may be subject to change:

Yours sincerely
